

QUESTIONS FOR TABLE CONVERSATION

“Reclaiming the Great Commission” argues that we are in a new day as church. Do you agree? How do you experience this new day in your congregation?

Would you say that your congregation has a vital and urgent missionary zeal? If yes, what are the signs of that zeal? If no, do you have an idea why there is a lack of missionary zeal?

Will you be an advocate in your congregation for a renewal of prayer, transformative bible study, and reading together “Reclaiming the Great Commission?” If not, why not?
